

Job Title: FinOps Cloud EngineerLocation: Sleepy Hollow, NY/ Basking Ridge, NJ*Responsibilities

- Will be responsible for oversight and tasks that optimize costs, provide savings and true-ups.
- Execute on a proactive strategy, tools and processes to govern the use and costs of AWS, monitoring and logging tools
- Collaborate with Business Units to drive cost savings initiatives and processes
- Help in the management of Cloud budget and forecast.
- Create reports using AWS CLI, Terraform , Cloudformation and build automation scripts for bulk updates and reporting.
- Work with stakeholders to understand their Cloud requirements and develop TCOs.
- Produce insightful reports on cost savings that can be shared with and actioned by Management/application teams.
- Work effectively with cross-functional teams globally, assimilating requirements, driving results in the form of data insights and building strategic partnerships.
- Support the team with setting goals/KPIs, retrieving data and modeling
- Provide cost optimization recommendations.
- Create and maintain month-end and quarter-end reports.
- Use Agile methodology for planning and execution.
- Use tools and technology to make data driven decisions.
- Performs other related duties as assigned.

Basic Qualifications:

- 5+ years of experience consulting, designing, implementing and contributing as a leader/team member.
- 5+ years of AWS infrastructure experience 3+ years in AWS costing analysis
- Have a thorough understanding of AWS, its pricing model, and how to optimize and control costs
- Experience in using cloud monitoring (eg: Cloudhealth) and AWS Trusted Advisor tool
- Experience with Cloud billing and cost management tools and processes
- Experience using one or more programming/scripting languages (e.g., Python, Go, Java, etc.)
- Familiarity with source code management tools (eg: Github, Bitbucket)
- Certifications and understanding of Cloud (AWS, Microsoft Azure)